Prestigious Survey Acknowledges JurInnov's Experience, Reputation and Service Offerings

Cleveland, OH- September 10, 2007- JurInnov Ltd. (www.jurinnov.com), a legal technology consulting practice specializing in the management of electronically stored information ("ESI"), today announced its recognition as a Top-Twenty Electronic Discovery Service Provider Based on Experience in the 2007 Socha-Gelbmann Electronic Discovery Survey (www.sochaconsulting.com). JurInnov's top-twenty ranking reflects its leadership in the industry and the experience attained while providing legal technology solutions to law firms and corporate legal departments since the year 2000.

The fifth annual Socha-Gelbmann survey is considered the premier report on the state of the electronic discovery marketplace, which is estimated to grow to $2.6 billion in 2007. The authors, George Socha and Tom Gelbmann, developed service provider ratings based on survey responses drawn from 115 organizations which included the nation's leading law firms, corporations and service providers. According to the survey, experience-based rankings were judged by the "length and depth of the providers' experience in the electronic discovery industry, the breadth and depth of the organizations' service offerings, and their reputations."

"This is a great honor considering there are more than 500 service providers now in our marketplace. I am confident that this is a reflection of our dedication to providing the highest quality legal technology services," stated Timothy M. Opsitnick, JurInnov's Senior Partner and General Counsel.

JurInnov has developed distinctive competencies in numerous phases of the electronic discovery process, including onsite ESI harvesting, computer forensics, data culling, processing, litigation document management and data hosting. "We take great pride in our commitment to quality customer service and the value we bring to electronic discovery matters," stated Brad Mixner, JurInnov's Electronic Discovery Manager.
